SUBJECT : Film of the Supervisory Reorientation

5. Editing of this remaining footage would require at least three months of full-time work by the OTR film editor. The necessity to synchronize the video and sound tracks by lipreading makes this length of time necessary. The difficulty of editing the panel-discussion part of the film would be even greater, because there were several speakers and the sound pickup was not always good. Additionally, to produce a complete film of the talk by the Chief/Medical Staff would entail separate photography of the slides he used. (A rough estimate of the cost of having this editing job done outside the Agency is $3000.)

6. We have a complete tape recording of the entire first program and typed transcriptions of Mr. McCone's talk, the talk by the Deputy Director for Support, and of the panel discussion. Tapes of the presentations to the DBI and the DBP are also available.

7. It is recommended that, unless a definite plan exists for the use of this film, processing be carried no further.
